Year of Diversity

The University of Pittsburgh has designated the upcoming academic year the Year of Diversity. The year will be full of opportunities to recognize and appreciate the full range of differences among us from our cultures, nationalities, and gender, to our preferences, ages, religions and political perspectives.

The Year of Diversity will also allow us to reflect on the value of diversity, how it strengthens systems and communities. As a University, the interaction of different ideas and perspectives is fundamental to the advancement of knowledge.

We anticipate a lively year of student, faculty, and staff discussions and events around this topic as we renew our commitment to engage with one another in celebrating our differences.

A Haskell Library Welcome!

Those of us here at Haskell Library would like to give a big welcome to all of UPT’s new faculty and students and a big welcome back to all those returning. We hope that everyone had a great summer and is looking forward to a successful and productive academic year. We know we are!

Although we would like to tell you all about our resources and services now, we know how hectic things can be at the start of a new semester. It’s easy to get “information overload” and overwhelmed. So for now we just want to say “hello” and let you know we are here for any of your information and researching needs. In later issues we’ll tell you all about the many services we offer.

If you have any questions please feel free to stop by the library or give us a call at 814-827-4439.

Don’t have time to stop by? Check us out on the web at:http://www.library.pitt.edu/titusville
